Adam Voigt

2024

A passionate advocate for teachers and school leaders, Adam Voigt is an education leader and expert on building healthy school cultures, education leadership and restorative practices.

Adam's work as a School Principal in some of Australia's toughest locations underpins every element of his practice. He reeks credibility and the humour, stories and hope behind his evidence-based approach mean his message rings true with audiences everywhere.

Author of the acclaimed book, Restoring Teaching, and creator of the teaching methodology he calls 'RP2.0,' Adam has taken to print his mission to transform education in Australia – one school at a time.

Adam also takes critical messages about schools, learning, culture and leadership and elevates action in the education system through his groundbreaking education business, Real Schools.

Adam speaks widely, both locally and internationally. His presentations are high-impact, engaging, provocative and exude a clear bias for change.

He has delivered a TEDx Talk titled 'The Importance of How' and is a regular guest on Sunrise, The Project and other programs.

Adam has a passion for empowering as many leaders and educators as possible with the tools, skills and attitudes necessary to build meaningful, productive relationships in Australia's schools… and for those relationships to be leveraged to accelerate student learning and growth.

But his strongest motivator is his mission to support educators in the critical role they play in building a brighter future for Australia.
